Bike! Everywhere!

Bike! Safely

Same Road. Same Rules. Same Rights.

- The safety of bicycle riders is a responsibility shared by both motorists and cyclists. Every bicycle rider has the same rights and responsibilities as a motor vehicle driver. All persons who use public roads must understand state traffic laws and use caution and common sense.
- As a motorist:
  - Yield to bicycles in a bicycle lane.
  - Do not drive in a bicycle lane except when making a turn.
  - Do not park in a bicycle lane.
- If parked at a curb, look before opening a car door.
- You may be in the path of, and could hit, a bicyclist, pedestrian, or other car.
- Look carefully for bicycles; scan intersections before entering or turning and yield to cyclists as you would for any vehicle.
- Pass a bicycle the same way you would a car, or any other vehicle, allowing at least three feet of space.
- Motorists must stop for bicyclists crossing in a crosswalk. There is a crosswalk at the intersection of any two streets, whether painted or not. Bicyclists must dismount if using a crosswalk to cross the street.
- As a bicyclist:
  - Obey all traffic laws when riding in the street.
  - In some downtown business districts, bicycling on sidewalks is prohibited; walk with your bike.
  - Bicyclists have the choice to ride on the roadway, on the shoulder of a road, in a bike lane, on a side walk, or in a crosswalk.
  - Bicyclists riding on a sidewalk or crossing in a crosswalk are granted all the rights and responsibilities of a pedestrian.
  - Yield to pedestrians on sidewalks and in crosswalks. Use an audible signal to warn pedestrians before passing, such as “on your left.”
  - Wear reflective gear and lights at night.
