REPORTS:

1. MANAGER/STAFF - The 2015 Property Tax Projections was presented by City Assessor Glenn Lemmon. He explained the Oakland County Residential (24 month) Study showed there should be an 11% increase overall for 2015. Commercial and Industrial were both up this year 2.43% and 2.75%. He commented there was a turnaround for industrial properties. He indicated there have been several sheriffs’ deeds over the past several years, but we are down to just 25 which are 2.6% of the total property transfers. The average sale in 2010 had dropped to $227,000. In 2014, there was an increase to $314,000 which is a nice turnaround for values in Novi. He is projecting $3.6B in SEV and $3.2B in taxable value for 2015 and if the values continue to increase they will surpass the previous high of $3.9B for SEV. We won’t reach our previous high for taxable value for five to six years. There was $48M in additions from new construction that is down from the $51M last year. Mr. Lemmon has projected an increase of 8.74% for assessed value and 3.36% for taxable in 2015. Next year, the legislation will go into effect that eliminates industrial personal property. It will eliminate everything purchased before 2006 and after 2012. It will be about a $20M reduction on personal property. Consumer Price Index statewide for 2015 will be 1.6%. Michigan Tax Tribunal is at manageable low now. They settled 254 cases in 2012 and there are 32 cases remaining. In 2011, they had 26% taxable value loss of the amounts under appeal. 2012-2013 there was a 15% loss and 13% for 2014 with $58M that is under appeal now. Member Mutch asked about... any Headlee rollbacks considerations. Mr. Lemmon thought they will not have to worry about the Headlee for this year. Going forward, when the industrial personal property is eliminated, there may be considerations at that point. Member Mutch asked how much loss is expected over the next five years. Mr. Lemmon he expects there will be some reduction this year. He expects in 2016 there should be about a $20M loss from the personal property roll. There will be continued erosion of the personal property roll. He expects it to go down to about $195M. Mayor Pro Tem Staudt asked how close he was to projections the Finance Department determined. Mr. Lemmon said long term, they expected it to be a 25% taxable value loss. He knew that they have always budgeted about $50M of taxable value because of Tribunal. He is reducing it to about $25M because the liability is not there anymore. Mayor ProTem Staudt would like to see the projections and have a comparison done with a presentation in the future.
